

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

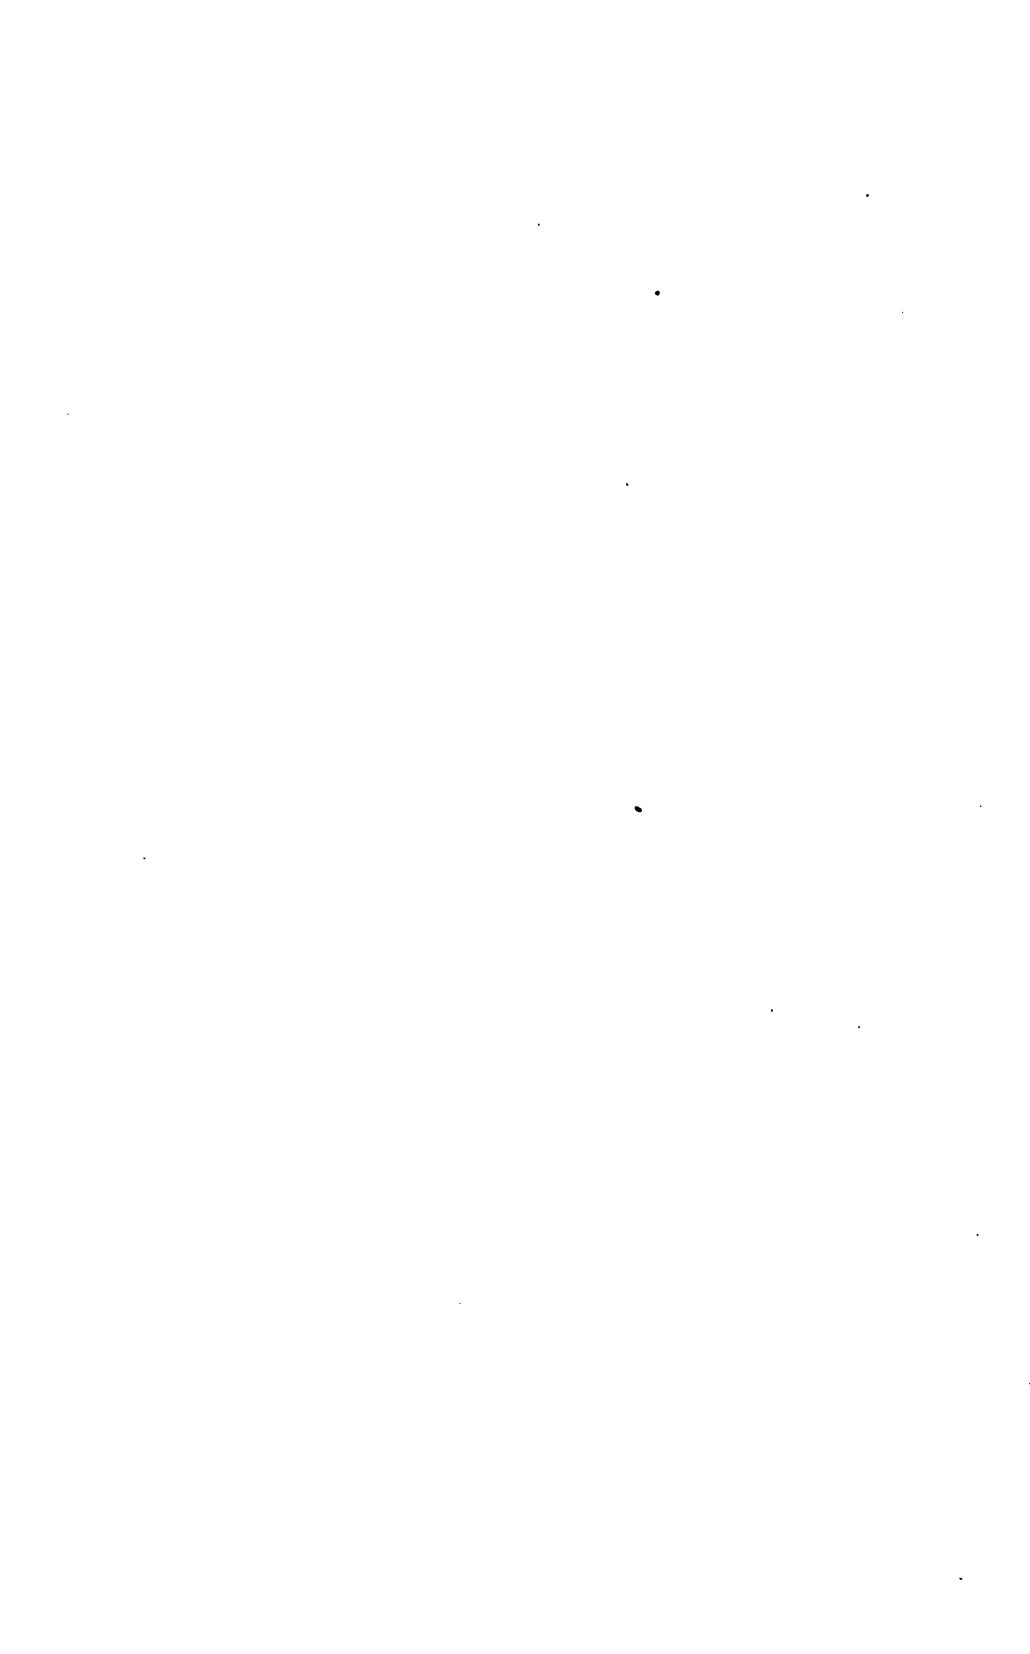

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

FOREIGN ASSOCIATIONS.

Three foreign associations have been authorized by this Department to operate in this State.

The Granite State Provident Association of Manchester, New Hampshire, which had previously been operating in Michigan, was granted a certificate of authority and filed a copy of its articles, by-laws, certificates of stock, etc., September 3, 1895.

Said certificate of authority was revoked March 18, 1896, and a receiver was duly appointed in whose hands the Michigan assets of the association now are.

The State Building and Loan Association of Indiana No. 3 of Indianapolis, Indiana, was granted a certificate of authority October 21, 1895.

The State House Building Association No. 2 of Indianapolis, Indiana, was granted a certificate of authority June 4, 1896.

The last two named have been examined once by this Department, and will be again examined during the month of July, 1897.

It is the intention of the Department to thoroughly examine each foreign association authorized to operate in Michigan at least once in each year, and oftener if deemed necessary.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION LAW.

The appendix to this report contains the Michigan building and loan association law, as amended; also copies of the reports of the only cases affecting building and loan associations that have been decided by the Supreme Court of Michigan, viz:—

Sawyer v. The Menominee Loan and Building Association, 103 M., p. 228, and

The People's Building and Loan Association of Saginaw County v. John W. Billing and Mary A. Billing, 104 M., p. 186.

In conclusion, this Department desires to acknowledge the uniform courtesy and respect with which it has been treated on all occasions by the secretaries and other officers of the associations.

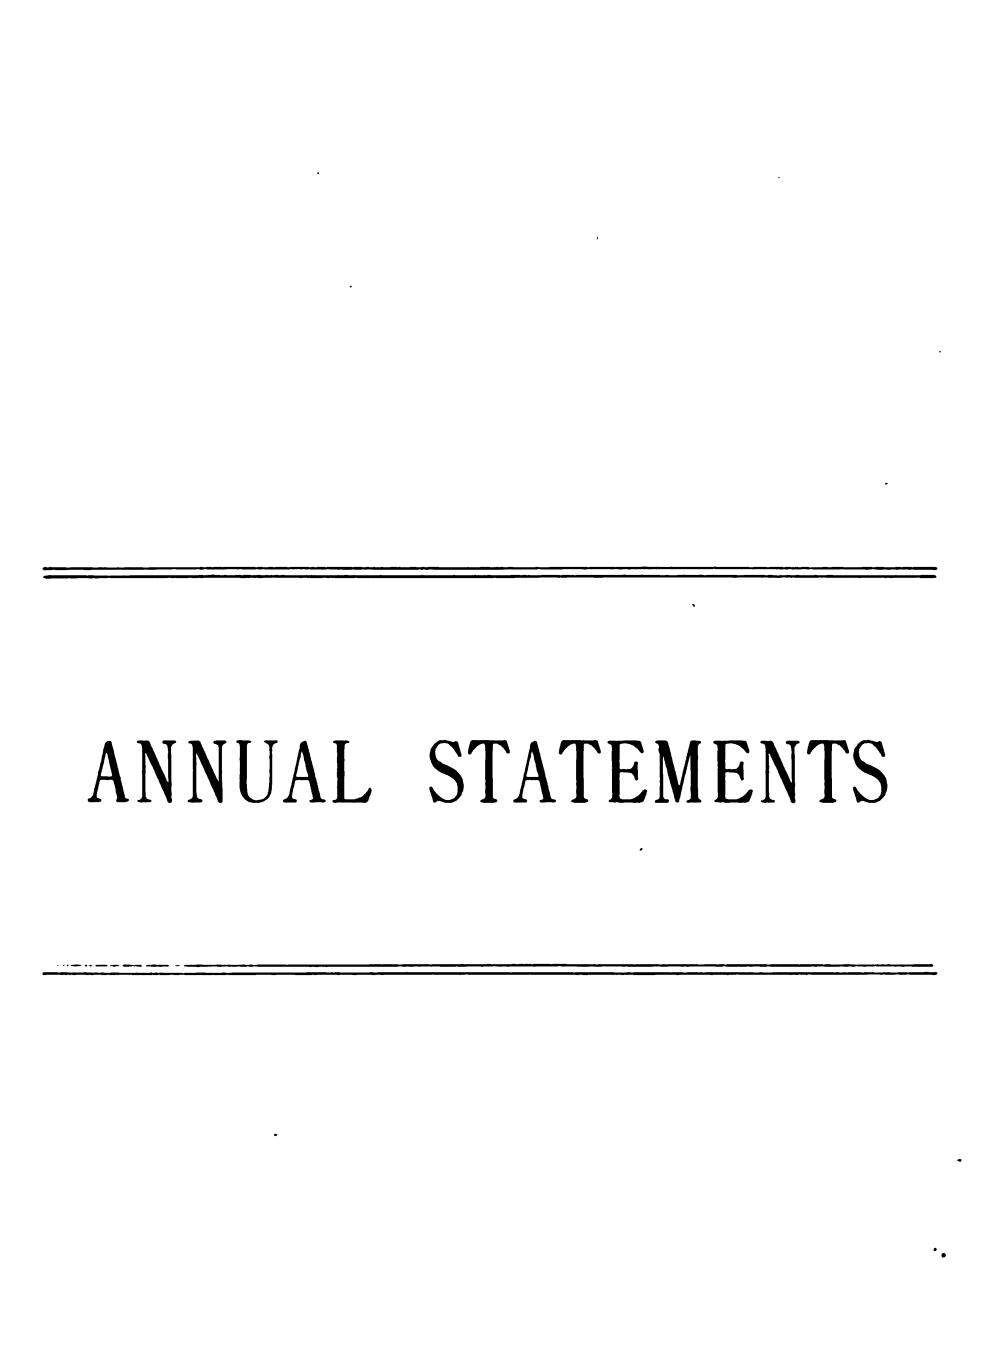

All of which is respectfully submitted.

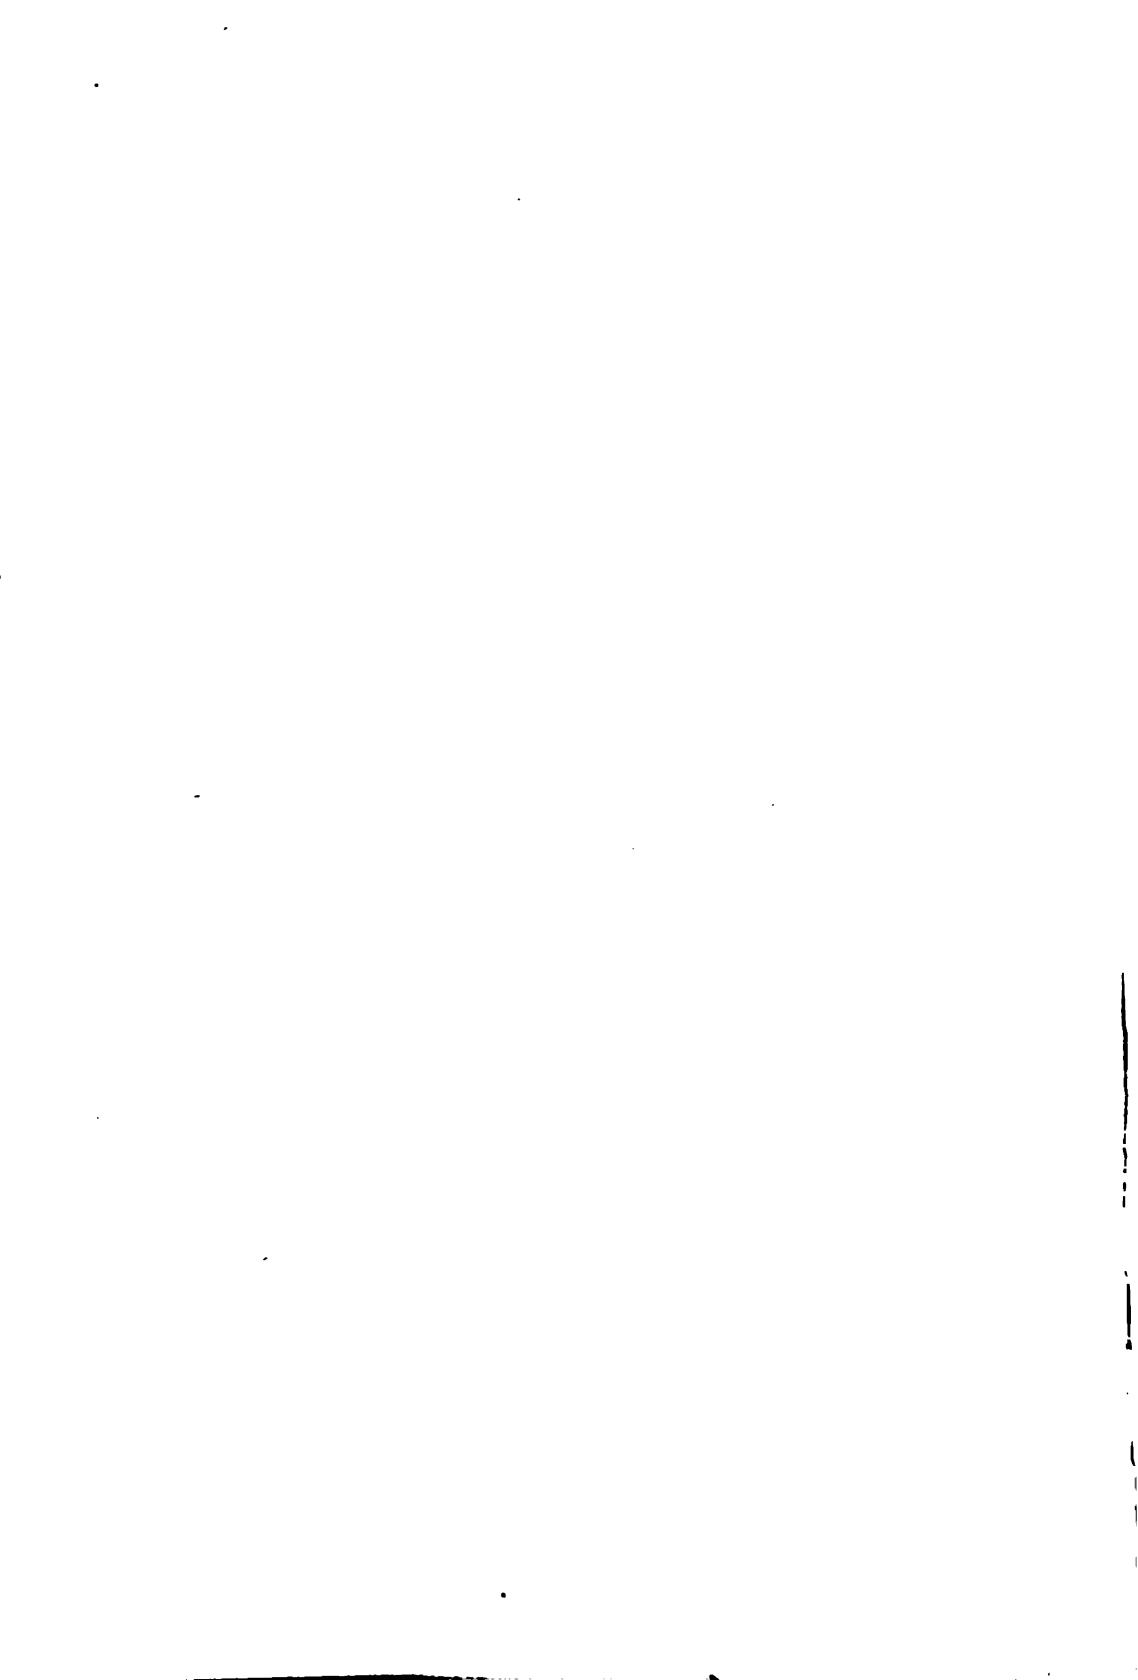

WASHINGTON GARDNER,

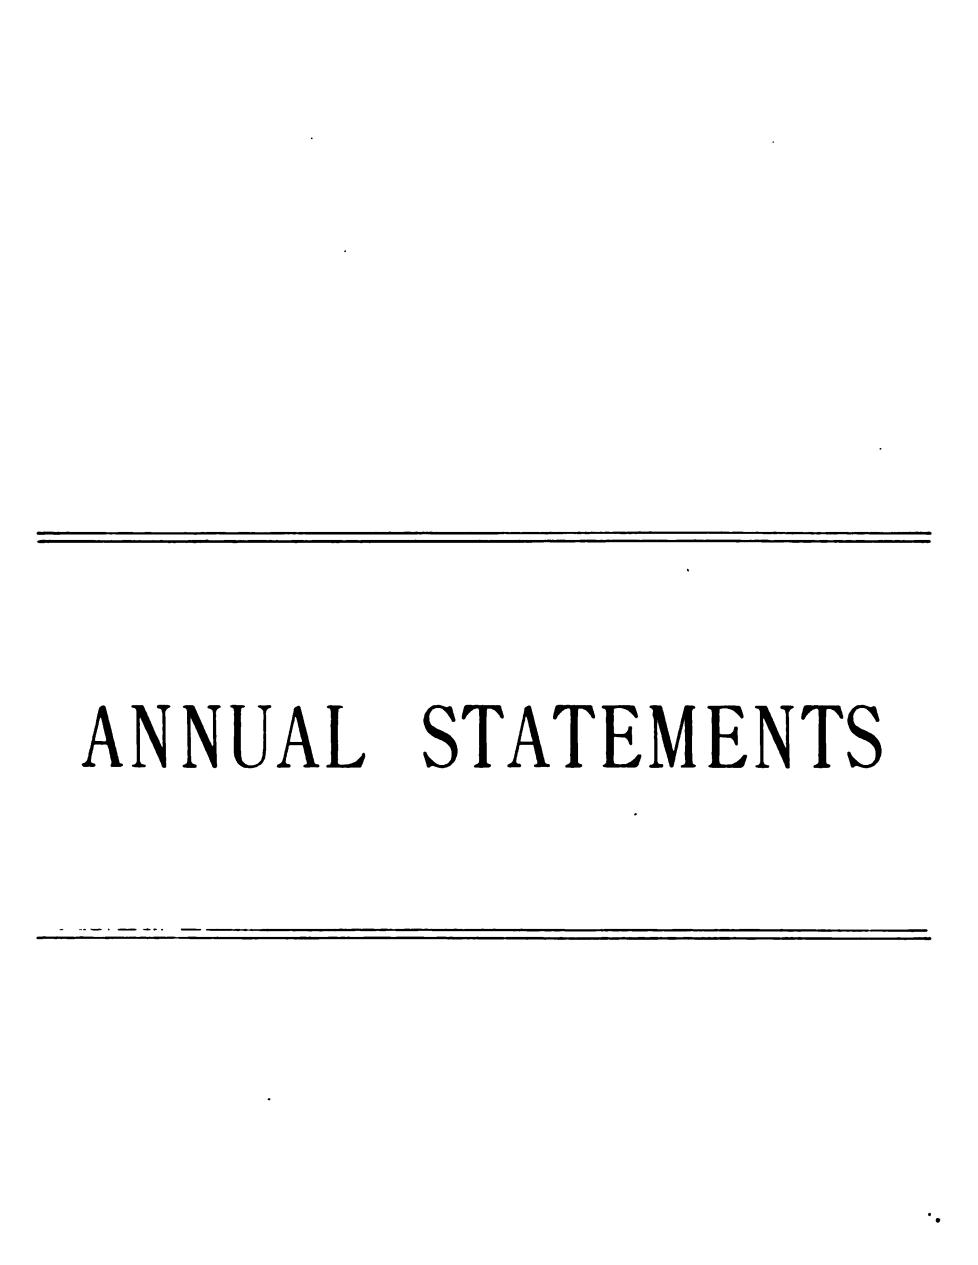

Secretary of State.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

THE PEOPLE'S BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF SAGINAW COUNTY v. JOHN W. BILLING AND MARY A. BILLING.

Constitutional law—Class legislation—Building and loan associations—Ultra vires— Premium—Foreclosure of mortgage—Forfeiture of stock—Husband and wife—Tenancy in entirety.

1. Act No. 50, Laws of 1887,1 which provides for the incorporation and regulation of building and loan associations, is not unconstitutional as class legislation.2

2. Certain provisions of the original act are construed as follows:

(a) The fact that, on making a loan, the joint obligation of the member to whom the loan is made, and another, who is not a member, is taken, or that the loan is secured by a mortgage executed by a third person, will not open the defense of ultra vires, under section 8, which provides that "no loan shall be made by said corporation except to its own members, nor in any sum in excess of the amount of stock held by such members borrowing."

(b) The receipt or retention by the association of a premium out of the loan is not in excess of the powers of the corporation under section 8, which provides that "the board of directors shall hold such stated meetings as may be provided by the by-laws, at which the money in the treasury, if more than the amount fixed by the by-laws as the full value of a share, shall be offered for loan in open meeting, and the stockholder who shall bid the highest premium for the preference or priority of loan shall be entitled to receive a loan of not more than the amount fixed by the by-laws as the full value of a share of stock (less the premium bid) for each share of stock held by said stockholder."

(c) Under section 10, which provides that in the event of the repayment of a loan by a borrower before the expiration of the eighth year after the organization of the association, or the date of issue of the series of stock in such association on which the loan may have been made, there shall be refunded to such borrower one-eighth of the premium paid for every year of the said eight years then unexpired, a borrower has no right to a deduction on account of premium paid, except in case of a voluntary payment of his debt before maturity.

(d) Section 9, which provides that, in case of non-payment of installments or interest and fines by borrowing stockholders for the space of six months, payments of principal and interest and fines, without deducting the premium paid or the interest thereon, may be enforced by proceedings against their securities, according to law, upon the order of the board of directors, was not beyond the power of the legislature to enact.

3. The contention that the premium should have been computed upon the amount of money received, and not on the face of the loan, is untenable, where the borrower understands in advance that the latter mode of computation is to be followed, and accepts the money and executes the securities after the premium has been so computed, and the amount thereof deducted from the face of the loan.

- 1. It is contended that the loan was made to defendant John W. Billing and another, not a member of the association, and that for this reason it is ultra vires. Section 8 of Act No. 50, Laws of 1887, under which the complainant was organized, provides that—
- "No loan shall be made by said corporation except to its own members, nor in any sum in excess of the amount of stock held by such members borrowing."

The bill alleges that defendant John W. Billing bid for the loan, and that the loan was made in accordance with said bid. It is true the bill further sets out the giving of the joint bond and mortgage, and avers that thereby the defendants, John W. Billing and Mary A. Billing, became jointly indebted to the complainant. But, taken as a whole, these averments show a loan to John W. Billing, and the giving of an undertaking, joint in form, by John W. Billing and Mary A. Billing, as security for the loan. Whether this undertaking created a personal liability on her part or not, the averment is not inconsistent with the proofs, which showed a loan made to John W. Billing; and, when the loan is so made, the fact that the joint obligation of the member and another is taken, or that the loan is secured by a mortgage executed by a third person, does not open the defense of ultra vires. End. Bldg. Ass'ns, § 382; Massey v. Association, 22 Kan. 624; Association v. Mixell, 84 Penn. St. 313; Kadish v. Association, 47 Ill. App. 608.

2. It is next urged that the transaction was a discount, and not a loan, and that, as the corporation is given no banking powers, discounting paper is beyond the scope of its business and authority, and that the contract is for this reason ultra vires. To sustain this contention, counsel cites the case of Anderson v. Association (Tex. App.), 16 S. W. Rep. 298. But the same court, in Succeedy v. Association (Tex.Civ. App.), 26 S. W. Rep. 290, holds that, under a statute similar to ours, the receipt or retention of a premium out of the loan is not in excess of the powers of the corporation. Section 8 of the statute provides:

"The board of directors shall hold such stated meetings as may be provided by the by-laws, at which the money in the treasury " " " shall be offered for loan in open meeting, and the stockholder who shall bid the highest premium for the preference or priority of loan shall be entitled to receive a loan of not more than the amount fixed by the by-laws as the full value of a share of stock (less the premium bid) for each share of stock held by said stockholder."

"The statute under which the association was organized is a general law, applicable to all the citizens of the State who choose to bring themselves within the relations and circumstances provided for by it."

It is said by defendant's counsel that, under the practical operation of the law, those who take stock and are not borrowers earn large profits at the expense of those who are borrowers, and especially the weaker members, who make default and suffer fines. On the other hand, it may be said that the organizations open a way for people of limited means, and wage earners, to acquire homes, by making small payments at stated intervals, and that, if the system adopted places a premium on thrift and promptness, it is in harmony with all laws of economy. But these arguments relate rather to the wisdom of such provisions than to their constitutionality.

- 7. In the decree the court below directed that the bond be reformed by striking the name of Mary A. Billing therefrom. This order was unnecessary. While the bond was in the form of a bond of both defendants, yet as the proofs showed that Mary A. Billing was a married woman, the wife of the defendant, and was not personally liable upon it, and no personal decree was sought against her, it was competent for the court to enter a personal decree against her co-defendant, who was the only one personally bound by the instrument, and this could be done without any reformation of the pleadings.
- 8. The only remaining questions which we think require discussion are those relating to the method of stating the account. The defendants insist that there should be a foreclosure of the stock before resort is had to the mortgage, or that, at least, the bill should ask for a foreclosure of the stock in connection with the mortgage foreclosure. A copy of the bond is attached to the bill, and contains the provision that, if default be made in the payment of the installments of the principal money or interest, etc., for the space of six months,—

"The said fifteen shares of stock of the first series, on which the said loan is obtained, and all other stock issued by the said obligee, and this day transferred as collateral hereto, may at any time thereafter be declared forfeited to the obligee as for non-payment of dues, and thereupon revert to said obligee, its successors or assigns, as forfeited stock, and the withdrawal value thereof, at the option of the obligee, its success-that this is a seemingly harsh provision, but we do not think it was beyond the power of the legislature to enact such a provision, and it does not rest with us to overturn the plain provisions of the statute.

We think the complainant was entitled to a decree amounting on the 7th of January, 1895, the date of the computation, to $1,411.22. The decree will be for this sum, with interest, less the credit for certain insurance money now in the hands of the American Commercial and Savings Bank of Saginaw, deposited to await the determination of the suit, the avails of which will be applied on the decree. Complainant will recover costs of both courts.

DEED TO HUSBAND AND WIFE.

For cases bearing upon the question of the estate created by a joint deed to husband and wife, see:

- 1. Fisher v. Provin, 25 Mich. 347, where land was conveyed to "Wilber Fisher and Jane Fisher, his wife, their heirs and assigns, forever." And it was held that the grantees did not take as tenants in common; that on the death of the husband the whole title inured to the wife; that there is nothing in the provisions of the constitution and statutes relating to the rights of married women which will convert such estate into a tenancy in common.
- 2. Insurance Co. v. Resh, 40 Mich., 241, where a married man, who was with his wife in possession of a house granted to him and his wife by the same deed, obtained insurance on the house, describing it as "his frame building, occupied by assured for residence and hotel," etc. In his application for the insurance the assured stated that his title to and interest in the property was absolute. In a suit upon the policy the insurance company defended on the ground, among others, that the assured had misdescribed his interest. And it was held that the misrepresentation of the title was in the highest degree important; that the assured had no absolutely inheritable interest at all; that he was neither a tenant in common nor an ordinary joint tenant; that his estate, in case of his death, went by survivorship to his wife, and during their lives, whatever his right may have been, it was not an undivided half of the property.
- 3. Manuaring r. Powell, 40 Mich. 371, where a husband and wife were joint purchasers at a foreclosure sale, and the commissioner's deed was made to them jointly. And it was held that the grantees took by entireties, and whatever would defeat the husband's title would also defeat that of the wife.
- 4. Jacobs v. Miller, 50 Mich. 119, 124, where, pursuant to an order for the sale of lands belonging to infants, the guardian conveyed the land to "Leo E. Taufkirch and Margaret Taufkirch, his wife, their heirs and assigns." And it was held that the grantees did not take by moieties, but became seized of the entirety; that the surviving grantee took the whole; that during their joint lives neither could alien so as to bind the other; and that the estate conveyed was not affected by the statute of partition.
- 5. Vinton v. Beamer, 55 Mich. 559, where a life estate in land was conveyed to a husband and wife, and the survivor of either of them. And it was held that the interest of the husband in the land could not be lawfully levied upon and sold under an execution issued upon a judgment against him alone.
- 6. Speier v. Opper, 73 Mich. 35, where a husband and wife contracted for the erection of a building upon land which had been deeded to them jointly. And it secretary, and, upon the refusal of the association to accept said tender, filed a bill to compel it to do so, and to cancel the bond and mortgage given to secure the loan. And it is held that the complainant is entitled to have the contract construed in the light of the by-laws as they were represented to him, or that at least the defendant should receive its money, less the payments made, with interest at 7 per cent, from the time the loan was made.

Appeal from Menominee. (Stone, J.) Argued June 27, 1894. Decided December 22, 1894.

Long, J. In September, 1888, complainant applied to the defendant association for a loan, and in order to procure it was obliged to subscribe for stock in the association. The taking of the stock and procuring the loan were all one transaction. James H. Walton was secretary of the association, and acted in the transaction in behalf of the defendant. Complainant claims that, before he subscribed for the stock, Walton, in setting forth the advantages to be gained by a borrower, among other things, represented that such borrower could pay a loan at any time, at the end of any quarter, and could settle on the basis of the loan's being cancelled in eight years, and at one-eighth thereof each year, taking the actual money loaned as a basis, and, so far as settlement was concerned, disregard the premium bid for the loan. The secretary explained that the association could do this because of the advantages it had in compounding interest monthly, and receiving interest on premiums and installments on premiums, and that the right to settle on this basis was plainly guaranteed by the by-laws.

Complainant claims that, relying upon these representations, he did not examine the by-laws, but agreed to take a loan of $4,500, and subscribed for 45 shares of the capital stock of the association, having bid for such stock 22½ per cent premium. After subscribing for such stock and securing the loan, complainant claims that, relying upon the representations made by the secretary, he continued for 17 quarters to pay the installments on the stock and interest, when he decided to settle and pay up the loan and cancel the stock pursuant to the representations made by the secretary, and was then for the first time informed that there was no such by-law, whereupon he tendered the sum of $1,700, and demanded the a court of equity will rescind the contract in pursuance thereof, although it do not contain the misrepresentation; and it matters not, in such a case, whether the misrepresentations be the result of mistake or fraud."

The misrepresentation was made in the present case by the secretary of the defendant, and the company has had the benefit of the loan to the injury of the complainant. Equity requires that the mistake be corrected, and the complainant relieved of any claim which defendant may have under the interpretation of the by-laws it now claims.

The decree of the court below dismissing complainant's bill will be overruled, and a decree entered in this court authorizing him to pay the mortgage at present on the basis of the by-laws as represented, unless the defendant shall elect within 30 days to take its moneys at the rate of 7 per cent per annum from the time the loan was made, deducting payments made, as the complainant offers to do in his bill; but no interest will be computed from the date of the tender, as the tender was sufficient to meet the amount unpaid on the mortgage at that date. Complainant will recover costs of both courts.

McGrath, C. J., and Montgomery, J., concurred with Long, J.

Grant, J. (dissenting). The rights of the complainant, Sawyer, must be determined from the standpoint of his relations to the defendant and its members. He voluntarily applied and became a member of the association. He was presumed to know the law, and, whatever may be the rule where an officer of the company misstates the effect of the by-laws, the charter of the defendant is binding upon him. Misrepresentations as to the effect or construction of the statute will not avail him. So, also, if Walton represented that there were by-laws which in point of fact were in conflict with the charter, this could not avail, for such by-laws would be void. The circuit judge found as a fact that the scheme as claimed by the complainant is not warranted by the charter, and that the defendant could not carry on business under such a scheme.

Section 10 of the act in regard to building and loan associations' provides:

"A borrower may repay a loan at any time, and, in the event of the repayment thereof before the expiration of the eighth year after * * * the date of issue of the series of stock in such association on which the loan may have been made, there shall be refunded to such borrower one-eighth of the premium paid for every year of the said eight years then unexpired."

accordance with the charter and by-laws as they are, but as Mr. Walton, nearly five years before, explained them to him, is manifest. I think his discovery that the by-laws were not as represented came too late.

**Ogilvic v. Insurance Co., 22 How. 391.

One author says:

"While by-laws are not always binding upon strangers, a person who becomes a member of an association or company after the adoption of a by-law is not considered a stranger, and by joining the organization he is deemed to accord his assent thereto, and to be thereafter bound by the obligations which it may impose upon the members." Beach, Priv. Corp. § 321.

Another author, after stating the essentials of valid by-laws, says:

"Where these features are found, and the by-law has been properly passed, every member's consent is conclusively presumed, and his submission required." End. Bldg. Ass'ns, § 271; Bac. Ben. Soc. § 81, and note.

In Upton v. Tribilcock, 91 U. S. 45, 50, the defense was that a subscription to the stock of a company was obtained by the fraudulent representation of the agent that the stock was in part non-assessable. It was there said:

"That the defendant did not read the charter and by-laws, if such were the fact, was his own fault. " " " That a stockholder may relieve himself from his liability by proof that he was misinformed as to the effect of his contract when he made it would be a disastrous doctrine. That a defendant who could not, by contract, lawfully relieve himself from liability as a stockholder, can accomplish that result by proof that it was fraudulently represented to him that he could so relieve himself, would be strange indeed."

I do not wish to be understood as saying that there are not cases in which a stockholder will be entitled to relief against a corporation for false and fraudulent representations in selling the stock to him. Such was the case of Railway Co. v. Kisch, L. R. 2 H. L. 99. In that case a prospectus was issued by the directors of the company, containing false and fraudulent representations in regard to its capital, upon the faith of which the defendant agreed to purchase some of its stock. But no such state of facts exists in the present case. The whole difficulty arises upon the honest, but mistaken, construction of the by-laws placed upon them by the secretary of the company to one who applier of the organization. It is not a rule of universal sentitled to rely upon the representations of the one phase and by laws of the defendant. Came to the pass r. Webster, 43 Id. 192. When one has the defendant, and chooses to rely upon the company as to the effect of the by-laws, be more in company as to the effect of the by-laws, be more in the passes after, be heard to say that the train.

SECOND ANNUAL REPORT

BELATIVE TO

ILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS

FISCAL YEAR ENDING JULY 1, 1897

COMPILED UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF

WASHINGTON GARDNER

SECRETARY OF STATE

BY AUTHORITY

REPORT.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE,
LANSING, April 1, 1898.

To His Excellency, Hazen S. Pingree, Governor of the State of Michigan;

SIR—In compliance with the requirements of section 31 of Act No. 50, Public Acts of 1887, as amended, I herewith submit the Second Annual Report relative to the business transacted by building and loan associations in this State during the fiscal year ending July 1, 1897.

At the time of issuing its first report of this character, the Department hoped and expected that the second report would be issued as soon as January 1, 1898, but, while the difficulties which caused the delay in issuing the first report had ceased to exist, new ones appeared which made the compilation of the second report even more laborious and slow than the first.

The principal difficulty encountered has been in trying to make the second report made by the associations balance with the first. Where associations have run every transaction through their cash account, and have kept a profit and loss account, no trouble has occurred, but where associations have reported only the actual cash received during the year, or have failed to keep a profit and loss account, it has been an impossibility to make the mortgage loans, stock loans, real estate, and capital dues accounts, balance with those of the previous year.

The discrepancies, however, have all been satisfactorily explained by correspondence and any apparent errors that may appear in the following tables and statements in connection with the several accounts, are occasioned by about 75 per cent of the association reporting only cash actually received during the year, and about cent failing to keep a profit and loss account.

as new considerations for the mortgages and placed in assets accordingly. The real estate of the association was re-appraised and the valuations cut down to the extent shown in statement of profit and loss. Each stockholder was started out under the new arrangement with a credit of the amount of his dues paid and 6 per cent interest on same for average time of payment, and the value of his stock per share is found by dividing amount of his credit, as shown by his account, by number of shares held by him, disregarding series. The association's plan of doing business was changed from the "serial" to what we are pleased to call the "dividend," and by-laws prepared and adopted in conformity with the new order of things, a copy of which is now on file in office of Secretary of State. The changes above mentioned were made without opposition from any of the stockholders, and all are satisfied with the manner in which the business is now being conducted under the new plan.

"JOHN N. KELLEY,Pres.
"WM. T. SLEATOR, Sec'y."

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Alpena.

John N. Kelley and Wm. Sleator, being duly sworn, say, that they are president and secretary, respectively, of the Alpena Loan and Building Association; that the above and foregoing is a true statement of the proceedings had by said association in the matter of the readjustment of its business in March last.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 21st day of March, 1897.

JOSEPH H. COBB,

Notary Public, Alpena County, Mich.

The two associations referred to in the preceding report, as having failed to file their statements within the time specified by law, were duly examined by representatives of the Department. The examinations were carefully and thoroughly made, and the association declared by the examiners to be prefectly solvent. The failure to file reports in due season being occasioned solely through the negligence of the officers.

In this connection, I desire to say that in my opinion, while the Department can make forced examinations only under certain conditions, it has ample authority to examine an association whenever requested to do so by the board of directors. I have caused one such examination to be made and will endeavor to give every association, officially asking for it, a thorough investigation.

The following comparative statement is self-explanatory:

The expense incurred during the year by the different associations in the transaction of their business has ranged from 0.58 per cent to 23.79 per cent of the total receipts, as compared with 0.27 per cent to 13.43 per cent for 1896, while the expense per share was from $0.06 to $1.93, as compared with $0.03 to $1.45 for 1896, as will be shown by the following statement:

FOREIGN ASSOCIATIONS.

No foreign association has been authorized to operate in this State since June 4, 1896.

The two Indiana Associations operating in Michigan were examined by this Department during the month of August last, but the result of such examinations developed nothing that would justify the revocation of their certificates of authority.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION LAW.

The Michigan building and loan association law will be found in the appendix to this report, but it was deemed advisable to omit the reports of cases which were published in the preceding report, as no new opinions affecting associations have been handed down by the Supreme Court of Michigan since the date of said report.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

REPORT.

STATE OF MICHIGAN,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE,
LANSING, November 14, 1898.

To His Excellency, Hazen S. Pingree, Governor of the State of Michigan:

SIR—In compliance with the provisions of law I have the honor to submit herewith the Third Annual Report of this Department, showing the condition of the Building and Loan Associations authorized to transact business in Michigan at the close of the fiscal year, July 1, 1898.

At that time there were seventy-six duly authorized associations operating in this State, from each of which this Department has received the annual statement.

This report embraces the statements of seventy-five associations, of which seventy-three are domestic, and two are foreign.

The Iosco Savings and Loan Association of East Tawas, is voluntarily liquidating, and reports its affairs about closed up. As it has done no business during the year, it is omitted from this report.

The Alpena Loan and Building Association of Alpena, has also gone into liquidation, and its affairs are now being wound up by agreement of the stockholders, a certified copy of which agreement has been duly filed with this Department. As will be seen by the tabulated statement of this association, its liabilities exceed its resources by $10,154.87, which is due to a loss on four loans caused by depreciation of securities as estimated by a committee of stockholders appointed to reappraise the same. Since filing its annual statement its secretary reports that two of the loans have been settled on the basis of estimated loss, and that the other two will undoubtedly be closed up in the same manner. Instead of adopting the tedious process of converting the assets into money, they are being turned over to members in satisfaction of their claims. Under this plan creditors are receiving one hundred per cent of their investment. If compelled to close out their business under the vexatious and expensive luxury of a receivership, they probably would not receive one-half that amount.

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT—Showing for the State the total assets, liabilities, receipts, disbursements, authorized capital stock and capital stock in force; the number of shares in force; the number of shares issued, matured, retired, withdrawn, forfeited or otherwise eliminated; the number of investing, borrowing and total number of members, and the number of shares louned upon, for the years ending July 1, 1897, and 1898.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Practical application of the present law governing building and loan associations in this State, proves it to be inadequate to their requirements, and a brief outline of such amendments as would in my opinion be beneficial is here presented.

It should be made obligatory on every association to build up, by setting aside a certain per cent of their annual profits, until it reaches such limit as may be considered sufficient, a reserve fund to offset losses and shrinkages in real estate values. The depreciation of securities in the last five years has fully demonstrated the necessity for such a fund.

Associations which desire to do so should be given authority by law to issue paid-up or prepaid stock, and to pay to the holders of such stock a certain per cent of their net earnings as cash dividends; but there should be some limit to the extent of participation of this class of stock in the profits. Provision should also be made for the retirement of such stock whenever the funds accumulated cannot be employed to advantage.

In my judgment the law should be so amended as to give associations authority to dispense with the open bid method of awarding loans, if they so desire, and instead to loan at a fixed premium, or to abandon premium altogether, charging a straight rate of interest.

Provision should be made for liquidation of insolvent associations by a method other than that of receiverships, which means irreparable loss and disappointment to members who have placed their savings in them for the purpose of building homes.

Leading building and loan association officials and shareholders are advocating the enactment of a law that shall provide for annual examinations by the State. The effect of such a law would undoubtedly be to better insure the stability of associations as it would lead to greater prudence in their management. As a general rule people who invest their money in these associations are of the industrial class and possessed of small means. To them the State owes the greatest of vigilance, and their savings ought to be protected by every possible safeguard.

The law should also provide for the merger of associations; authorize the investment in National, State or Municipal securities, of surplus moneys not demanded by borrowers, or the loan of same on good mortgage security to other than members; limit the amount of capital dues applied to expenses, or better still, abolish the expense fund and pay expenses from the earnings.

CONCLUSION.

In the appendix to this report will be found the law regulating building and loan associations in this State, also a copy of the decision of the Michigan Supreme Court in the case of Myers et al. vs. Alpena Loan and Building Association.

Respectfully submitted,

WASHINGTON GARDNER, Secretary of State.

SUPREME COURT DECISION

MYERS ET AL. VS. ALPENA LOAN AND BUILDING ASSOCIATION.
DECIDED JUNE 28, 1898.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS, FRAUDULENT REPRESENTATIONS, PREMIUMS, OPEN BIDS, USURY.

1. Statements by officers of a building association as to how soon the shares of stock would attain their full value, and how low the rate of interest would be to the borrower, are matters of opinion, and not fraudulent representations.

2. A rule of a building association organized under Public Acts 1887. No. 50,—providing that no premium, fines nor interest on such premiums shall be deemed usurious (section 2), and that the money to be loaned shall be offered in open meeting, and loaned to the stockholder bidding the highest premium for it (section 8),—which required a bid of 20 per cent as the minimum premium for a loan, was contrary to the provisions of the act, so as to deprive the association of the protection of the section in regard to usury.

3. The borrowing members of a building association cannot vote themselves the assets, in the way of premiums bid for loans, and still require the performance of a contract by a borrowing member who had obtained his loan at a 20 per cent premium, while the average premium paid was over 30 per cent.

APPEAL FROM CIRCUIT COURT, ALPENA COUNTY, IN CHANCERY.

ROBERT J. KELLY, JUDGE.

Bill by Moses C. Myers and others against the Alpena Loan & Building Association for an injunction. From a decree in favor of complainants, defendant appeals. Affirmed.

J. D. Turnbull, for appellant. Joseph H. Cobb (Frank Emerick, of counsel), for appellees.

MOORE J.—

In 1890 Julius Myers was the owner of real estate upon which there were mortgages for $6,000, upon which he was paying interest at the rate of 7 and 8 per cent. He claims he was told by the officers of the defendant association he could obtain money from them so it would not cost him more than 5 or 6 per cent, and that the loan would have to be made through his son, Moses C. Myers, who was then a member of the association. He then conveyed the property to his son, and a loan was procured, secured by 77 shares of stock, and a mortgage upon the real estate. The property was afterwards so conveyed that Julius Myers and his wife are now the owners of it. August 10, 1897, defendant commenced foreclosure proceedings by advertisement, claiming there was due $3,968.35. November 5, 1897, complainants filed a bill and obtained an injunction restraining said sale. After a hearing in open court, a decree was rendered by the trial judge finding there was due upon the mortgage $3,307.37. From that decree the defendant appeals.

The defendant association was organized under Act No. 50, Public Acts 1887. From the facts disclosed by the record, the transaction should be treated as though Julius Myers became a member of the association, and the loan was made to him. It was for the purpose of accomplishing this result the various transactions occurred. The record shows it was represented to Mr. Myers he would get his money for a less rate of interest than he was then paying, and the shares of stock would attain the full value of $100 each in five or six years. He was also told the defendant sold its money at auction at its stated meetings, and would not accept a bid for less than 20 per cent premium, and that it frequently obtained a much higher premium. June 10, 1890, 77 shares of stock were obtained by Moses C. Myers, acting for his father, at a premium of 20 per cent, which was figured upon the face value of the stock; and the mortgage in question was given for $7,700, though there was paid to the complainant but $6,160. The principal of the mortgage was to be paid at the rate of $38.50, each month and the interest on the principal sum at 8 per cent, amounting to $51.33 each month, until the shares of stock attained the value of $100 each. Complainants made these payments promptly until October, 1896, when they amounted to $5,081.69. Up to March, 1897, the shares of stock in the company had been issued in series—13 series in all. The association had collected from its members, and loaned on real estate and on its stock, nearly $150,000, at an average premium of upwards of 30 per cent. It had sustained some losses, through the defalcation of one of its officers, and through the depreciation of real estate, but according to the record it had made large profits. In the spring of 1897, without the consent of complainants the association voted to return to all the borrowing members the premiums they had bid for their respective loans, and this was done. At the same time the keeping of the stock in series was abolished. The accounts of all the members were readjusted, and interest was figured on the amount of the mortgages at 8 per cent, and credited upon the dues paid at 6 per cent. At the same time the practice of loaning money in open competition to the highest bidder was abolished, and the subsequent loans have been made either at a nominal premium, or without any premium. It is the claim of the complainants that the representations made to J. Myers were fraudulent, and for that reason the contract is void. It is also claimed that the subsequent acts of the association were unlawful, and deprived them of vested rights, and made it impossible for the original contract between the parties to be carried out. They filed their bill to have the original contract set aside, so far as the amount of the mortgage is concerned, the time of payment, and rate of interest, and treat the transaction as a direct loan, and pay the defendant the amount of money they received, with 6 per cent interest. The court granted complainants this relief, except that he computed the interest at 8 per cent.
